INTRODUCTION

This respectful workplace manual serves as a reference for staff of the Prairie Mountain Health Region.

This manual is intended to assist staff in understanding the privileges and obligations of employment. Where there is a conflict between this manual and any of the policies or collective agreements governing employment, the policies/collective agreements take precedence. Acceptance of employment means acceptance and adherence of the provision of this manual and all relevant and Prairie Mountain Health policies.

The need may arise to revise, supplement or rescind certain portions of this manual from time to time.

Any ideas you have for improving this manual can be forwarded to Human Resources.

OUR COMMITMENT

Prairie Mountain Health is committed to providing a work environment that respects and promotes human rights, personal dignity and health and safety.

Prairie Mountain Health supports the principle that all persons employed or contracted, as well as members of the medical staff, board members and volunteers, students, patients, clients, residents, and members of the public are entitled to a work and service environment that is free from any form of disrespectful behavior.

As confirmed in the Respectful Workplace policy, conduct that contravenes these principles will not be tolerated and appropriate remedial and other action will be taken as means of enforcement.

RESPECTFUL WORKPLACE POLICY

RESPONSIBILITIES AND RIGHTS IN A RESPECTFUL WORKPLACE

Within the workplace, the roles and responsibilities of different individuals with regard to ensuring a respectful workplace vary based on their function within the organization. Responsibilities include:

Employer:

As far as is reasonably practical, the Employer provides a workplace free of Disrespectful Behavior and holds staff in violation of this Policy accountable.

Develops, implements and communicates fair and timely procedures, which address allegations or concerns in regard to Disrespectful Behavior and which incorporate:

- the process by which Staff may raise a concern, how the concern will be handled, and how the results of the process will be communicated back to the parties including the Staff involved.
- Measures to ensure that all concerns are treated confidentially including the name of the Complainant(s) and Respondent(s) or the circumstances to any person except as necessary to investigate the complaint or as required by law.

Employee/Staff:

Treat others respectfully.

Report Disrespectful Behavior using the procedures established pursuant to this Policy and shall respect the confidentiality of all parties involved.

This Policy does not prevent Staff from exercising any other legal right including the filing of a complaint with the Manitoba Human Rights Commission pursuant to the provisions of The Manitoba Human Rights Code respecting discriminatory practices.

Anyone filing a frivolous complaint or complaint made in bad faith or, anyone who retaliates against a person who makes a complaint or is involved in an investigation as a witness is subject to disciplinary action.

Provincial Respectful Workplace

Manager/Supervisor:

Each manager, supervisor and team leader will foster a safe working environment free from Disrespectful Behavior as far as is reasonably practicable and will ensure that situations of alleged or potential Disrespectful Behavior are dealt with in accordance with this Policy and associated procedures regardless of whether or not a Staff complaint has been made.

Managers, supervisors and team leaders are to advise Human Resources of all complaints made pursuant to this Policy

Human Resources:

Human Resources are responsible for promoting awareness of the Respectful Workplace Policy and this manual; assisting management in the consistent application of the Policy and manual; consulting with and providing advice to management; counseling employees on their rights and options; receiving concerns and ensuring appropriate action is initiated; conducting investigations as required and working collaboratively with others involved.

Human Resources also ensures that signage is posted containing wording which supports the purpose of this policy.

Workplace Safety & Health (WPSH):

WPSH is responsible for guiding/assisting in the provision of a safe workplace through processes including but not limited to, job hazard analysis, risk assessment and review of direct and indirect causation of injury/near miss, development of prevention and control mechanisms including engineering controls, administrative controls, safe work plans and personal protective equipment.

WPSH also ensures that this policy and associated procedures and guides are posted on Workplace Safety & Health bulletin boards in all Prairie Mountain Health facilities.

Union:

Unions have actively participated with the Employer to ensure a respectful workplace. Many collective agreements contain provision supporting the need for a respectful workplace and the need to work collaboratively in this regard. Unions will provide support to their individual members who may be involved with concerns relating to disrespectful behaviour and will often participate in education and communication sessions in support of a respectful workplace. If a union is aware of a concern that its members are not able to raise directly to an Employer representative, the union may bring this matter to management or human resources' attention.

WHAT TO DO IF FACED WITH DISRESPECTFUL BEHAVIOUR

The following is intended to help individuals if confronted with behaviour believed to be disrespectful. Each situation will be different and will need to be handled appropriately.

Safety First

Staff faced with a potentially violent situation should exercise extreme caution and should consider the following:

- Remain calm and, if applicable, try to distance himself/herself as quickly and safely as possible from the situation.
- Employ safety techniques identified through training.
- In a facility setting, be aware of and use the Code White relating to a call for help due to aggressive behaviour.
- If possible, call for assistance from other staff.
- If the aggressor is a client who attempts to leave the room/building, do not attempt to physically prevent this departure; rather, call the appropriate emergency service to intervene appropriately.
- Immediately notify the supervisor, manager, security or someone in authority and complete an Occurrence Report if appropriate.
- If necessary, person in authority will notify the police.
- If you have suffered an injury or a near miss as a result of the incident, the incident should be reported in the Prairie Mountain Health Incident Reporting database.

Note: Incidents of violence, aggression and responsive behaviours from patients and families are addressed through PPG-00074-78 Violence Prevention for Healthcare Workers Policy.

Absent safety concerns, staff are encouraged to consider the following options available to deal with concerns of disrespectful behaviour:

Immediate Resolution

Be proactive. Try to resolve the problem directly with the person with whom you have a concern. Do not wait until it happens again or think the problem will go away. Approach the person who made you feel uncomfortable, explain how it affected you and ask them to stop. Do this calmly, respectfully, and in confidence. Often, an individual may not be aware that her or his behavior is offensive, and most will change the behaviour once s/he is aware of the problem. If another person approaches you with a concern about your own behaviour, listen carefully and respectfully. Honest, direct discussion will often lead to a resolution.

Consultation

If you have attempted to resolve the problem without success or if you are not comfortable addressing the problem on your own, discuss the problem and possible solutions with your immediate manager/supervisor, Human Resources, WPSH Respectful Workplace Mentor or a union representative. Consulting these supports does not commit you to filing a formal respectful workplace complaint. You will be assisted in identifying appropriate ways of responding to the concerns through both informal and formal means. Whenever reasonable, informal steps to resolve these matters are preferable as they focus on rebuilding and repairing the on-going relationship between the people involved.

Provincial Respectful Workplace

Steps Following Consultation

Following consultation, you may consider, but are not limited to the following options:

- you may pursue an informal resolution process; or
- you may decide to file a formal complaint, or.
- you may decide not to pursue the matter further;
- the employer may determine that the concern does not fall under the provisions of the Respectful Workplace Policy and no further action will be taken under the Policy;
- the employer may decide to pursue the matter on its own initiative due to the serious nature of the concern raised and either an informal process will be pursued or a formal investigation will begin.

Informal Resolution Processes

Whether any of the options listed below are appropriate will depend on the situation and other options not currently contained within this material may also be appropriate. The decision on appropriate options will be at the discretion of the Employer. Some of the options for informal resolution include:

One-on-One Discussion

After consulting with other parties, you may feel equipped on how to discuss the concerns directly with the individual with whom you have concerns. This will likely lead to an effective resolution as it is likely the individual will modify his/her behaviour once s/he is made aware of the concern.

Management Involvement

This may include management taking any number of steps including but not limited to the setting and confirming of expectations, clarification of obligations, introduction of certain rules, procedures, guidelines, etc.

Human Resources Involvement

Human Resources staff can assist in any number of ways including providing education and information sharing sessions with affected staff; reinforcement of standards and expectations as well as providing certain cautions.

Conciliation/Mediation

This option uses the assistance of a neutral third party to meet with the two parties (together or separately) in an attempt to resolve the concerns and to build agreement on how interactions will occur into the future. The focus is on rebuilding the relationship and not on finding fault of either party. An individual from human resources, a manager, other employer representative or outside service providers may also serve in this role.

Filing a Formal Complaint

Not every complaint of disrespectful behaviour warrants a formal investigation. In fact, it is hoped that most complaints can be resolved between the people involved, with subsequent monitoring by management to ensure that there is no recurrence. However, at times, an investigation will be required.

A formal complaint must be in writing, signed, dated and include all particulars of the allegations and the names of any witnesses to the behaviour or event. Send it to the VP Human Resources in a sealed envelope marked confidential. To ensure all applicable information is included, an Respectful Workplace Complaint Form (PMH2876) form should be completed.

The VP Human Resources will confirm that s/he has received your complaint via a letter of acknowledgment and will determine, based on the content of the complaint, whether the concerns fall within the Respectful Workplace Policy:

Provincial Respectful Workplace

(a) If the concern falls under the Policy, the VP Human Resources will then determine whether a formal investigation is appropriate or whether an informal resolution process should be pursued.

(b) If the concern does not fall under the Policy, the VP Human Resources will advise you that it will not be pursued under the Policy and will advise of other possible processes that may be appropriate.

If an informal process is identified, the VP Human Resources will work with you and your union representative, at your express wish, and others identified in your complaint in an effort to satisfactorily resolve the concern.

If a formal investigation is determined appropriate, the VP Human Resources will advise you and the respondent and will assign an investigator. The respondent will be provided with a copy of the written complaint. Management in the respective areas will be advised as appropriate. To ensure all applicable information is included, a Respectful Workplace Respondents Response Form (PMH2877) form should be completed.

The investigator will contact you and the respondent to answer any procedural questions and to identify next steps. The respondent will be advised of the need to file a written reply to the complaint with the investigator by a set date (average length of time to reply no longer than 2 weeks).

A formal investigation generally includes the following:

- Interviewing (union representation during the investigation is available as applicable)
  - the person who has raised the concern, witnesses, and the person who has allegedly acted disrespectfully along with his/her representative to present the complaint and hear the response
- Determining the facts
- Maintaining confidentiality among the individuals involved
- The investigator will evaluate all of the evidence and prepare a written report that will be provided to the VP Human Resources.
- The VP Human Resources in consultation with the Human Resources Consultant and appropriate management representatives will determine what action, if any will be taken as a result of the findings contained within the investigation report.
- A summary of the final report will be shared with you and respondent unless circumstances warrant otherwise, in which case a summary of the findings will be shared. The report may be shared with your union representative if you wish.

Time Frame

Reasonable efforts shall be undertaken to complete an investigation within 90 days from date of approval to proceed unless circumstances warrant otherwise. If the investigation is expected to be longer in duration, everyone will be appropriately notified.

Confidentiality

Managers, Human Resources and investigators keep the details of a complaint confidential to the best of their ability. However, confidentiality does not mean anonymity because witnesses may be involved. If the matter involves discipline, employees covered by a collective agreement have a right to grieve through their union and non-union employees can file an appeal to the VP Human Resources. This grievance process may lead to a formal hearing which could involve testimony from the complainant, witnesses, the accused individual and management. These limitations on confidentiality should not discourage employees from making a complaint. Many complaints are resolved without a formal investigation. Issues should be raised at an early stage to facilitate a mutual resolution.

Provincial Respectful Workplace

Effect of Complaint on Other Proceedings

This Policy in no way prevents Staff from exercising any other legal rights available to them under any other process or law and specifically, Staff have continued and full access to raise concerns and/or file complaints with The Manitoba Human Rights Commission. Medical Staff: Any alleged breaches of the Respectful Workplace Policy against physicians shall be investigated and processed in accordance with this manual and the Respectful Workplace Policy and not under the processes outlined in the Medical Staff By-Law unless so delegated by the Chief Executive Officer. Should a physician be found to be in breach of the Policy appropriate disposition shall occur as determined by the Prairie Mountain Health facility and the Prairie Mountain Health Chief Medical Officer except that such disposition shall have no impact on the physician's privileges. This disposition does not prevent the simultaneous referral of the issue by the Prairie Mountain Health Chief Medical Officer to the Medical Executive Committee ("MEC") as a "complaint" pursuant to Section 6.2.3 of the Medical Staff By-law and MEC may determine the appropriate disposition of the complaint, in accordance with the Medical Staff By-Law, and whether the physician's privileges should be affected.

Related Matters

Occupational Health & Safety (WPSH)

Any issues raised under the Respectful Workplace Policy and considered pursuant to this Manual may also need to be considered under the Workplace Safety & Health Act (WSHA). Under the WSHA, issues involving employee safety (for example: violence and harassment), must be considered by the Employer and dealt with in accordance with the provisions of that Act.

Therefore, in addition to any of the processes and mechanisms for resolution set out under this Manual, the Employer must also consider its obligations under the WSHA.

Therefore, whenever a respectful workplace concern has been raised to the Employer's attention, consideration must be given to whether the employee's safety is or may have been at risk. If so, the WPSH department must be consulted.

Union Representation and Timelines Under Collective Agreements

At any point in the processes outlined in this guide including both informal and formal processes, unionized staff have the option of involvement of a union representative.

Should an informal or formal process be initiated, time limits under a collective agreement relating to grievances and or referral to arbitration should be extended as appropriate in the interests of attempting to achieve resolution of matters through alternative means.

Interference or Retaliation

Every staff member has a right to bring forward a legitimate concern under the Respectful Workplace Policy. Interference with this right or with an investigation or retaliation against a complainant, respondent, witness, or any other person involved will not be tolerated and may, by itself result in disciplinary action. Interference or retaliation may take the form of direct contact between the parties or more subtle actions such as shunning, reassignment, spreading of rumors, and breaches of confidentiality, among others.

Malicious and Bad Faith Complaints

If the investigation proves that the complaint was deliberately made for frivolous or vindictive reasons, the employee making the false allegation is subject to discipline. This does not apply to complaints made in good faith but which are not proven.

Provincial Respectful Workplace

Recordkeeping

All records of complaints, including any and all verbal or written information gathered, received, or compiled throughout the complaint resolution process shall be maintained in a secured confidential file by the VP Human Resources.

All records shall remain on file for a minimum of ten (10) years. Anonymous data, however, shall continue to be recorded by the VP Human Resources for statistical purposes only.

Employee Assistance Plan

Employee Assistance Plan (EAP) services are available to all staff. Staff in need of support or counseling should contact the Human Resources department or EAP directly by calling toll-free: 1-800-590-5553
